

Nestled in a woodland area of Highland Lake

Nestled in a woodland area of Highland Lake, surrounded by the Blue Ridge Mountains, Sanctuary in the Pines offers a perfect setting for any event. Just minutes away from historic Hendersonville, we cater to individuals and groups who are looking for a sacred space for retreats, weddings, small conferences and family gatherings.

Our timber-framed, 3,700-square-foot building with cathedral ceiling, paladian windows and a wrap-around porch invites the senses to participate with nature. The lake is visible from the grounds, and our garden has been lovingly created to blend delicately with the surrounding scenery.

A dining area with a warming kitchen provides the essentials for a catering staff, as well as housing a space large enough to seat 50 people.

For those wanting to stay on site, Highland Lake Cove offers an assortment of Adirondak style vacation rentals ranging from rustic camp cabins and family cottages at the retreat end of the lake to luxury spa suites at the other. For larger groups, additional lodging and dining facilities can be found next door at the Highland Lake Inn and Season's restaurant.

OTHER NEARBY ATTRACTIONS INCLUDE:

- Golfing
- Carl Sandburg Home
- Walking trails, canoeing, skiing, and white water rafting
- Thirty minutes from Asheville

The participants of Open Door Teachings built Sanctuary in the Pines as an opportunity to practice cooperation and creativity in awareness. We offer this space to you as an expression of our deepened joy and commitment to each other—and to the world.
